

JSMEA attends WMW '19

Japan Ship Machinery and Equipment Association (JSMEA) was in Malaysia with two member companies (IHI Power Systems Co., Ltd. and Taiko Kikai Industries Co., Ltd.) at World Maritime Week 2019 (WMW '19) in Kuala Lumpur on Sept. 10-12.

In March 2019, JSMEA signed a memorandum of understanding with the Malaysia Shipowners' Association (MASA), which organizes the WMW, to begin exchanging information on the latest trends in their nations' respective maritime industries and leading-edge technologies, promoting interactions between their respective members and paying each other regular visits for these purposes. JSMEA participated in the exhibition to enhance its partnership with MASA, which had asked it to do so in accordance with the agreement.

WMW '19 was attended by the Ministry of Transport (MOT), the Royal Malaysian Navy (RMN), the Malaysian Maritime Enforcement Agency (MMEA) and other governmental organizations. It also welcomed ship owners, shipbuilders, designers and others engaged in maritime affairs from neighboring economies, many of whom visited the JSMEA booth, where its promotional brochure of energy-saving and eco-friendly products as well as equipment catalogs of member companies for offshore support vessels (OSVs) and floating production, storage and offloading (FPSO) systems were distributed and all gone on Day 1, which goes to show the high interest of those engaged in maritime affairs in Japanese ship machinery and equipment products. At the JSMEA booth, members' products were introduced with panels and catalogs, while information was widely exchanged with customers and potential customers.

On Sept. 13, a day after the WMW '19, JSMEA was invited to a dinner party organized by MASA, accompanied by IHI Power Systems, helping to deepen their friendship with MASA, the Association of Marine Industries of Malaysia (AMIM) and other local parties from the maritime industry.
